What is the Practice Transformation Initiative (PTI)?

PTI is one of 29 federally funded Practice Transformation Network’s located throughout the U.S.

PTI has adopted a train-the-trainer model to strengthen quality improvement and data capability in 13 provider organizations contracted with 4,800 clinicians in 1,800 practices representing the lives of 3.5 million Californians.

Majority of our contracted clinicians work in primary care practices with 2 or fewer providers.

Practice Transformation Initiative’s Data Principles

Key data principles helping to drive improvement across the PTI community

1. Focused Improvement Efforts (Subset of P4P)
2. Frequent Data Collection and Reporting (Rolling 12)
3. Data Transparency (Results Portal)

Practice Transformation Initiative

Data Principles

Performance on diabetes care is a strong predictor of overall clinical performance.

Practice Transformation Initiative

Data Principles

Frequency of data collection and reporting

Provider Organizations within PTI are required to report measure data on a rolling 12 month basis each quarter.

Why?

• Allows for more immediate feedback on impact of transformation work
• Keeps performance data in front of PO/Practice/Clinician
Practice Transformation Initiative

Data Principles

Data Transparency

• PTI Results Portal shares performance data across the PTI Community.
Practice Transformation Initiative

Data Principles

Results portal provides visibility to performance data both within (practice & clinician) and across organizations

Focusing on Your Quality Improvement Activities

Think about a current quality improvement activity within your organization, answer the following questions:

1. Complete the quality improvement self-assessment worksheet.

2. At your table discuss and document on a flip-chart:
   a) Which data principle is strongest within your QI activity and why?
   b) What is your QI activity’s biggest area of opportunity and what are the first steps you can take to act upon the opportunity?
