

Total Cost of Care Results Delayed for 2017-18 Medical Group Report Card

The Integrated Healthcare Association (IHA) collects information for the total cost of care star ratings. While doing routine quality checks of results for medical groups, IHA identified an inconsistency in medical group total cost of care comparisons. As a result, IHA has delayed release of the information needed by the Office of the Patient Advocate (OPA) to generate total cost of care star ratings for the 2017-18 Medical Group Report Card. The report card, which includes clinical quality and patient experience results, is available on the OPA website. IHA is working to resolve the issue and hopes to provide OPA with the total cost of care information in early 2018 for the report card star ratings. Please email p4p@iha.org with any questions.
